

Staff Tennis Professional, Dennis Sult

A beautiful father and son bond started Dennis' love for tennis at the young age of four years old. Learning the basics of the game, Dennis and his dad spent hours on the court together. It was a short time until Dennis' uncommon skills became evident. With that, Dennis began training at a local tennis academy catering to high level players. During this time, Dennis played the first position through high school and competed in USTA tournaments and reached top 20 ranking in boys 12u, top 50 in boys 14u Eastern, and finished boys 16u ranked 80 overall on the east coast. Dennis continued this high level of play at Alvernia University in Pennsylvania and was designated 'Most Valuable Player'.

Throughout Dennis' extensive training, he assisted his coaches in guiding and teaching players of all ages and levels. Dennis learned from amazing Tennis Professionals, and built a solid base of knowledge and coaching skills. Dennis' goal for players is to have fun while they learn on court with him. He looks forward to sharing his deep love for tennis and working with players to improve their skillset and grow their love for the game.
