

Wilson Paul enjoys cultivating tennis skills in players of all ages. When you meet him, you'll notice a quiet, reserved, and friendly personality. Wilson hails from scenic Malawi, Africa and discovered his love for tennis at an early age, competing and winning many tournaments. In 2006, he won the 16u Coca-Cola African Foundation Tournament. In 2007, he won the 16u Banja La Mtsogolo Junior Tournament. Also, in 2007, he won the 18u Coca-Cola African Foundation Tournament. In 2008, he won the 18u Banja La Mtsogolo Junior Tournament and in 2009, he won the 18u Presidential Cup.

As an adjunct to his competition schedule, Wilson was employed as a hitting partner at tennis clubs in Malawi. He served as a Tournament Organizer for the Lawn Tennis Association of Malawi and instructed at Camp Wayne, an all-girl's tennis camp.

In 2017, Wilson came to the United States and settled in Westchester, NY. He was employed by Scarsdale Golf Club as a Tennis Professional while earning his PTR Under 10 and PTR Adult Development Certifications. During this time, Wilson earned an Associates Degree in Business Management from Westchester Community College.

During his personal time, Wilson enjoys playing tennis, golf, squash and reading. Wilson looks forward to sharing his passion for tennis and helping players develop fundamental skills and a lifelong love for the game.
